

THE VERMONT LAW SCHOOL ENERGY CLINIC PRESENTS

COMMUNITY DECARBONIZATION TECHNICAL ASSISTANCE WEBINAR

LEARN ABOUT OPPORTUNITIES IN COMMUNITY SOLAR, NET ZERO
HOUSING DEVELOPMENT, CLEAN TRANSPORTATION AND SOLAR SITING

THURSDAY, AUGUST 4TH, 6PM-7PM EST

The Vermont Law School's Institute for Energy and the Environment invites you to participate in a webinar explaining the services available through our Energy Clinic. Faculty will describe the projects our students have taken on for Vermont and New Hampshire Communities, including net-zero housing development, community solar ownership aggregation, agriculture-friendly renewables and electric vehicle adoption. The faculty will describe how other towns in Vermont can make use of the clinic's pro-bono services to decarbonize their communities.

For questions or to register, please contact Molly at MSMITH@vermontlaw.edu

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER!

The IEE's pro bono services are supported by the Linthilac Foundation, the Jane's Trust Foundation and the USDA's National Agriculture Library

